Site Skills Training Darwin Upsizes

Site Skills Training has moved its Northern Territory operations to 1 Campion Rd in East Arm.

The move increases Site Skills Training's Territory operations from a 2,500sqm facility to an 8,000sqm facility.

Since commencing operations in the Northern Territory in 2012, Site Skills Training has delivered high risk licencing, health and safety and industry programs to over 15,000 Territorians and on behalf of over 400 companies operating in the Northern Territory.

The size increase and history of training represents Site Skills Training commitment to local jobs and increasing the training options available to Territorians.

Site have identified the increase as being part of a broader strategy to introduce programs and capability currently being run by Site and others elsewhere in Australia and Internationally, particularly to support development of local jobs for projects in the Oil and Gas, Mining, Construction, Energy and related industries.

The facility allows for the opportunity for Site to explore future potential infrastructure such as their Safe Live Process Plant environments which Site have engineered for Myanmar and Papua New Guinea to deliver specialist technician programs for operators in the oil and gas industry.

Site Skills Training is part of Site Group International, an education and training company with training facilities throughout the Northern Territory, Queensland, Western Australia, and international facilities in Papua New Guinea, Philippines, Myanmar and Saudi Arabia.

Training commences at the new facility from Monday May 29.
